

LTEN 110: Science in the Renaissance

Are you interested in STEM, magic, alchemy, science fiction, or God?

In this course, we will explore the development of the sciences during the Renaissance by reading the works of Francis Bacon, Galileo, and Isaac Newton among others.

Satisfies the following requirements:

- LTEN majors: British Lit pre-1660 course
- Revelle College: 1 course for the Humanities minor
- Eleanor Roosevelt College: Upper-Division Writing G.E. requirement
- Earl Warren College: 1 course for Humanities PofCs/Area Studies

Instructor: Kailey Giordano
Summer Session 2 (Monday-Thursday, 5-6:20pm)